"In 1896 Maryland gave McKinley nearly 33,000 majority. It was the first trial of the splendid election law that had just been put in operation by a Republican State administration and Legislature; that law remains undiscorbed, and in 1900, elthough we have had four years of party strife, which chiminated in the turning over of the State to the Demogration of the state to the Demogration of the state to the Demogration of McKinley. In 1896, previous to the nomination all Republicans were for McKinley; the same thing was true this year, thu his renomination all Republicans were for McKinley; the same thing was true this year, thu his renomination has closed the breach. Our campaign will be vigorously pushed by H. Lee Goldsborough and Stephen R. Mason, chairman of the State and City Committees, with the active support and advice of James A. Gary, Louis E. McComas and William T. Maister, the foremost men of our party, who enjoy the confidence of those Demograts who will temporarily leave their party and cooperate with the Republican. "There is no race question in Maryland; there are fully 250,000 colored men, women and children in the State, who are well fed and in most part progressing. The young are being educated under a splendid system of free public instruction, and each year to a marked degree crime decreases and the progress of the teople is evidenced in the homes they are buying and the deposits made in the savings banks. The white people are liberal in giving employment at feir wages, and there has never been (and it is now not thought of) such a thing as a serious race agitation. Colored men, true, almost en masse vote the Republican faith is as strong among us as Christianity and we rarely find a bereit."

strong among us as Christianity and we rarely find a heretic."

E. A. Leaverty of Nebraska said that while in 1896 Bryan carried that State by a majority of 14,000, in 1898 the Republicans captured the Legislature, and came within 2,000 of electing their candidate for Governor. Mr. Leaverty said that the oid line Democrats were pretty well disgusted with Bryanism and 16 to 1, and that the main support Bryan has is from the Populists. The Republicans, according to Mr. Leaverty, expect to put up such a fight this year that they will carry the State for McKinley and Kooseveit.

year that they will carry the State for Mckinley and Roosevelt.

Charles S. Hernly, the committeeman from Indiana, who is the chairman of the Indiana Republican State Committee, said that in his State the Republicans recognized that there was a hot fight before them and had made preparations to put in enough good hard work between now and election to keep the State in line. Mr. Hernly said that there was no feeling of overconfidence among the campaigners under his direction and that this fact alone gave him every encouragement to believe that the State would be carried for the Republican ticket from one end to the other.

He and Mike Dady See Platt-Jacob Worth's

The Hon. Lou Payn of Chatham Four Corners came out yesterday as a flat-footed supporter of the Hon. Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn to be the Republican candidate for Governor this fall. The Hon. Lou had a long talk with Senator Platt at Mr. Platt's office in lower Broadway. He was accompanied by the Hon. Mike Dady of Brooklyn, and Mr. Dady of course is a great advocate of nominating the Hon. Timothy for Governor. Yesterday there was some talk of Col. John N. Partridge of Brooklyn as a Gubernatorial possibility. Nothing has been settled and nothing will be determined for a month or more. The Republican State Convention will not be held intil Sept. 11. Meantime Senator Platt and his friends will have talks.

No matter what the Hon. Jacob Worth of Brooklyn is up to, it was a matter of general congratulation yesterday in Republican circles that Mr. Worth has signified a disposition to reenter public life. He was always known as a fair fighter and a good, straightforward campaigner. The exigencies of political life demanded his temporary retirement, and, besides, his health was poor and no one was more ready to take a vacation than Mr. Worth

The Brooklyn machine since Mr. Worth's retirement has been a sort of tin horn affair and almost a byword and a jest in Republican national and State circles. Mr. Worth in his day was a vote getter. The Brooklyn Republicans seemed to have confidence in him. Just whether he is to be nominated for Congress or not has not yet been determined, but there was many a Republican yesterday who said that he was glad that Mr. Worth had given some indicacudgels for the Republican party. The mere fact, though, that the Hon. Lou Payn had come out strong for the Hon. Timothy L. Woodruff as the Republican candidate for Governor was considered the most important event at this time.

Interlocutory Stage. Ex-Alderman Patrick H. Keahon is fighting East River Bridge Commissioner James W Boyle for the Tammany leadership of the Seventh Assembly district, and says that he has got a majority of the District General Committee. He says that Mr. Boyle found this out. and that for that reason postponed a meeting of the committee bulletined for last night. The bulletin was taken down a couple of days ago.

At 8 o'clock last night Mr. Keahon appeared at the headquarters in West Fourteenth street at the head of about one hundred and fifty adherents, all members of the District Committee Mr. Boyle was in the headquarters with a few of his friends. As soon as Mr. Keahon got to the headquarters he walked up to Mr. Boyle and said:

"Well, Commissioner," said Mr. Keahon, "here's a majority of the District Committee here now. You might call a meeting right away. We can attend to any business that there may be."

"Why, we can't have a meeting without sending out postal cards," said Mr. Boyle. "The rules require it. We have zot to send a postal card to every member before we can have a meeting. Did you get any postal card?"

"No, I didn't," said Mr. Keahon. "You didn't intend that we should know about this meeting. Never mind, we'll be at the next one."

Mr. Keahon's committeemen had waited outside while he was talking with Commissioner Boyle. When he came out and told them that there was no meeting they gave him three cheers and then gave three groams for Boyle. They announced that they would do up Mr. Boyle at the primaries in August.

Chicago Hotel People Asking High Prices of

CHICAGO, July 11 .- Democratic leaders are threatening to abandon Chicago as the headquarters for the Presidential campaign. They say the hotels are asking exorbitant prices for committee rooms. The committee wants twenty rooms and the hotel proprietors are said to have asked almost the rates for them. After considering proposals received for committee rooms to-day and declaring the bids un-satisfactory, members of the National Com-mittee began to talk about transferring the neadquarters to Washington, New York or St. Louis. In some quarters this talk was regarded as a move to force the hotels to make better terms.

Senator Jones has persistently refused to say that headquarters would be opened in Chicago. To all questions on the subject, he has answered that the new Executive Committee would have to decide on the place for headquarters. Meantime, however, the Senator and other members of the National Committee who expect to be on the Executive Committee, have spent several days conferring with the hotel proprietors.

Mr. Bryan is said to favor directing the fight with the hotel proprietors.

Francis Vinton Greene, the new President of the Republican County Committee is arranging his business aftairs so that he will be able to spend a part of each day at the county headquarters, 1 Madison avenue. Gen. Greene believes that the county headquarters is the proper place to conduct the business of the committee. For the present he will be there after 4 o'clock every afternoon to meet the district leaders and others having political mis sions. Gen. Greene said yesterday that the matter of appointing a campaign committee was still under discussion and that no decision would be reached for sometime. There was no immediate need of the services of such a committee and the district leaders and he wished to give the matter every possible consideration before they made up their minds whether the appointment of such a committee was necessary, and if it was, who should make up the committee. Gen. Greene is doing his utmost to promote harmony among the kepublicans of the county, and he said yesterday, that he found evidence on every hand of a strong desire on the part of all to get together and enter the campaign with a united front against

The big men of the Citizens' Union have made up their minds that the best thing it can do is to keep pretty quiet this year and bend made up their initials that do is to keep pretty quiet this year and bend all their energies to an effort to get all the anti-Tammany elements in line for 1901.

Anti-Trust Drummers.

The Commercial Travellers and Hotel Men' Anti-Trust League, which once boomed Augustus Van Wyck as the trust hater's candidate for President, has convinced Chairman Jones of the Democratic National Committee that it will be a great help to Bryan in the campaign this fall, and Chairman Jones campaign this fail, and Chairman Jones has promised to help the league get along during the summer. Therefore the league will hold a Bryan and Stevenson ratification meeting early in August in Cooper Union. Ex-Gov. William J. Stone of Missouri, Joseph J. Willett of Alabama and Judge Van Wyck will make speeches. The league will have headquarters in the Union Square Hotel through the summer and fall.

CAMPAIGNER MAGUIRE ARRIVES. Ready to Shout for Bryan and Try of the Quiet to Get the Senate.

The Hon. James K. Maguire, Mayor of Syraruse, arrived at the Hoffman House last night He is to be chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee this year. Practically he is to conduct the campaign in the State. He is to have a talk Hon. Frank Campbell, chairman of the Democratic State Committee. Mr. Maguire is regarded as a good campaigner. His politica acumen is very highly spoken of in Onondaga county both by the Republicans and Democrats The Hon. Richard Croker is greatly interested in showing a good vote for Bryan in the borough of Manhattan this fall. It remains to be seen whether Mayor Maguire and Mr. Croker and all the other great men of the Democratic party in the State and city are to work in harmony. Mayor Maguire said last night:

"I will be in New York city three working Our main headquarters will be at the Hoffman House. We intend to put up the best fight possible. We believe that many Democrats who were not friendly to Mr. Bryan in 1896 are now willing to support the Democratic Presidential and State tickets."

Mayor Maguire, as the chief campaigner in New York State, is to sound the "keynote" of Democratic doctrines during the campaign although everybody knows that the real ory silver at 16 to 1. The Democrats are to nominate some sort of candidate for Governor crats in New York city are chiefly interested in electing Congressmen. Senators and Assem blymen. The same may be said of Brooklyr and of Erie county, Back of all the campaign talk of the Democrats in New York State the great desire to capture the Senate at Al-

of the Republican State Committee, and all of his assistants are on guard. They understand the purposes of Mayor Maguire and his lieutenants. The Republicans say confidently that there is no more possibility of the Democrata capturing New York State for President Governor or the Legislature than as if no campaign was on.

SILENCE IS THE TANMANY TIP. No Big Bryan Rattfication, Probably, Until

Richard Croker kept his word in regard to newspaper interviews yesterday, and reporters who called to see him at his real estate office, 111 Broadway, and the Democratic Club were informed that he had nothing to say, and that there wasn't any news. Mr. Croker's announcement that he wasn't going to talk for publication any more was accepted as a straight tip by his followers in Tammany Hall. None of them had s word to say yesterday. They were as mum as Bridge Commissioner Boyle's saddlerock

Mr. Croker and a good many of the braves will go to Saratoga in August for the races This is the Tammany custom, and no reason is seen why it should be altered this year.

His Nemination Notification There. INDIANAPOLIS, July 11 .- The Democratic rganizations of the city and Thomas Taggart, as Mayor, are preparing to send formal invitations to Mr. Bryan inviting him to come to this city to receive the notification of his nomination by the Kansas City Convention. The directors of the Commercial Club were called together this afternoon for a similar purpose and a sharp discussion over the expediency of sending an invitation by that body resulted.

Major Taylor, D. M. Parry and others ob jected on the ground that the directors had jected on the ground that the directors had been criticised by the Democrats some time ago when it was proposed to give a dinner to Hugh H. Hanna on account of his services in securing the gold standard legislation, and they did not see but the invitation to Bryan was quite as partisan. After considerable discussion it was determined to extend the invitation, but it will not be sent for several days.

THREE CONVENTIONS IN LINCOLN,

THE HOME OF BRYAN. emoorats, Populists and Sliver Republican The Three Conventions Are Deadlocked LINCOLN, Neb., July 11.—The State conventions f the Populists, Democrats and Silver Republicans are being held to-night, with the prospect that they will last until morning. The Demo

ctats organized by electing T. J. Doyle as chairman, and adjourned for several hours until a contest from Douglas county could be settled. The Silver Republicans selected George A. Hibner as chairman and listened to a speech from Mr. Towne. The convention voted down resolutions indorsing the action of the Kansas City National Convention of Silver Republicans in accepting Mr. Towne's withdrawal and nominating Stevenson.

There was war in the Populist Convention from the beginning. The first fight came up over temporary chairman, M. F. Harrington, a lawver from O'Neill a candidate to succeed enator Allen in the Senate, was put foward for chairman. Allen's friends determined to trip him up at the beginning, and brought out the Senator in opposition. Allen won by a vote of 649 to 428.

Conference committees were appointed by each of the three conventions, and, while these committees were out deliberating conventions listened from various leaders. A big clash is looked for between the three parties to the fusion alliance. There are eight nominations to be made, and for these eight places the candidates number at least fifty. The trouble will come not over the nomina dons, but over the division of offices between the three parties to the fusion alliance. Outside of the Supreme Court and the Board of University Regents, where the division is pracically equal, the Populists have an overwhelming majority of the State offices-all in fact save the Attorney-General, who is a Democrat, and the Lieutenant-Governor, held by a Silver Four years ago the Populists took advantage of the strenuous necessities of the Democrats Mr. Bryan had but a short time before ominated for President, and to secure the Populist indersement of the national ticket the Democrata had to sacrifice every candidate for every other State office save Attorney-General and Lieutenant-Governor who were indorsed by the Populists. Each of these was, two years later, renominated and reelected. The Democrat and Silver Republicans now demand a more equitable division of the offices. The Democrats say they will be content if they get the State Treasurer, in addition to the Attorney General. The Silver Republicans want the Lieutenant-Governor and Land Commissioner A considerable number of the Populists are opposed to granting either favor. They insist hat as Towne is to withdraw as a Vice-Presidential nominee, they must, in order to preserve party integrity and prove to the scoffing mid-readers that they have not sold the party out to the Democracy, insist upon having at least as many offices as before. Then there is a still less numerous, but a great deal more noisy body of Populists who insist that they shall have all of the offices or they will walk out the convention.

At midnight the three conventions were deadlocked over the division of offices with prospect of an early settlement. Bryan paid a visit to each the three conventions 10 and 11 and urged upon them the ne cessity of making some concessions in the interest of harmony. Among other things he said to the Democrate:

"This year we go before the people with bet ter reasons to appeal to them than in any previous campaign. Take the platform adopted at Kansas City and compare it with that of the Republicans. There is nothing in the latter document which appeals to a great agricultural State like Nebraska. There is nothing in it which appeals to either the interests or the aspirations of our people A distinguished Republican said four years ago that Nebraska would go Republican by 25,000, no matter what the platform might be say that this year it will go Democratio by 25,000, because of the Republican platform. am glad that the Democracy of Nebraska in accord with the Democracy of the Union, and that upon the Kansas City platform we can unitedly go forward to rictory. There was a time when the Democracy of this State was riven in factions. Most of those who left us in 1896 have come back to us, and we are now united. "The Kansas City platform declared one feaue to be paramount in this campaign. I want you to go home and present this truth, that when a government once bandons the doctrine that it exists only by the consent of the governed, it can continue to live only by brute force. I have faith in the consent of the governed, it can continue to live only by brute force. I have faith in the patriotism and intelligence of the people of this State to believe that all of the elements of the reform forces of the great majority of the Republican party will be united in support of the principle that has made us the greatest among nations, and when the people are brought face to face with this great question, they will come to the support of the Democratic platform and make it plain that in the future no party may dare to throw discredit upon the Declaration of Independence."

To the Populists he said that the fusion forces would enter this campaign under circumstances more favorable than in 1896, because they have issues that reach deeper and because there are more counts in the indictment against the Republicans. No difference in principles exists, he said and nothing ought to be permitted to prevent harmonious action. He said he knew that the Populists had not supported him because of personal admiration, but because they believed that through him they might secure the enactment of laws that would redress their wrongs. When once the question had been settled that governments come from but one political source, the consent of the governed, and are reponsible to the people's will, then other scores may be settled. The one duty now is to secure control of the Government and save it from the hands of the Republican party.

Mr. Towne was to have gone to-night, but missed his train. He reviewed Stevenson's record to show him to be a man who ought to be acceptable to the Populists.

WEST VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.

lenator Elkins Sets the Keynote in the Stat A. B. White for Governor.

CRARLESTON, W. Va., July 11 .- The Repub can State Convention was called to order to-day at noon by State Chairman W. M. O. Dawson. It was the largest convention ever held in the State and the city was crowded with visitors. Senator Elkins was called t the chair as temporary chairman and made a strong address. It was the keynote of the ampaign in West Virginia and was one of th hest speeches ever made by Mr. Elkins. He outlined the campaign and spoke of the duty of Republicans in West Virginia this year. He said the party would win and added:

"The Republican party promises to protect American industries, maintain the national credit, hold fast to the good things it has done and go forward boldly to solve the great prob lems that confront the nation at the dawn of the twentieth century. "The Democratic platform adopted at the Kansas City Convention indorses the Chicago latform with its attack on the Supreme Court should be considered as part of the Populist party's platform adopted at Sioux Falls. Bryan is both Populist and Democrat The Democrats at Kansas City simply indorsed the Populist candidate and added to the Populist

"The Democratic party declares vigorously against trusts. This does not prove that the Republican party favors trusts any more than the Democratic party does. Considering recent disgraceful developments touching the Ice Trust in New York city, this declaration seems strange and out of place. There can be no mistaking the meaning and purpose of the Republican platform on this subject. It declares expressly that any trust that destroys competition, limits production or increases prices should be suppressed. The Republican party makes no indiscriminate war on private corporations. They are necessary to the transtition. Ilmits production or increases prices should be suppressed. The Republican party makes no indiscriminate war on private corporations. They are necessary to the transcation of the business of the country, and are

After the address of Mr. Elkins the committees were appointed and the convention adjourned to meet this evening. There is no opposition to the nomination of the Hon. A. B. White for Governor. There will be spirited contests for the other places on the State ticket.

MAINE DEMOCRATS. iamuel L. Lord Renominated for Governor

Kansas City Platform Indorsed. LEWISTON, Me., July 11.-The Democratic State Convention here to-day was in the nature of a love feast, so far as the choice of a Guber natorial nominee was concerned. The Hon Samuel L. Lord of Saco, whose name headed the State ticket two years ago, was renomin ated by acclamation. The platform strongly indorsed the Kansas City Convention platform in its entirety and pledged hearty support to Bryan and Stevenson. The platform deals largely with late issues, denounces the Prohibitory Liquor law and the Sheriff fee system. favors electing the Railroad Commissioners by the people and declares for an equalization of taxation. The convention was presided over by the

The convention was presided over by the Hon. D. J. McGillicuddy of Lewiston, in whose address no direct reference was made to the silver question. He dwelt at great length on the question of territorial expansion, and declared that though the United States may have a legal right, it has no moral right to hold the Philippines. His reference to the Republican party's "long feeding at the public crib" was vociferously applauded.

There were several sharp contests over State Committee vacancies. The withdrawal of T. S. Brigham of Buckfield, Secretary Long's native town, caused much comment. Mr. Erigham has seen long service on the State Committee, buthe now finds himself out of touch with the party principles. Anti-imperialism was the keynote of all the addresses in the convention. Banners were displayed, bearing these sentiments: "The Constitution and the Flag. One and Inseparable, Now and Forever."

These Presidential Electors were chosen:

CHANCE FOR CUBANS TO REGISTER. New Lists to Be Made for the Election of Members of the Constitutional Assembly.

Special Came Desputch to THE SUN. HAVANA, July 11 .- All those who are entitled to vote under the Election law, but who did not register prior to the last election, will be allowed to register between Aug. 20 and 27. Many Cubans, especially among the Conservatives, did not register for the recent election owing to various causes, one of which was that heretofore the lists were made by officials without it being necessary for the voter to appear in person to register. Under the new law it is necessary for the voter to appear and many persons, in the rural districts especially, refused to do so. The new registration is allowed in view of a probable general election for members of the board to form a constitution for the island. An opportunity will be given for the Conservative lement to show its strength.

The opinion is freely expressed by Cubans that Charles F. W. Neely, formerly financial agent of the Post Office Department here, who was arrested in the United States on the charge of appropriating to his own use funds of the Department, will not be brought back to Cuba to stand trial. The Lucha and the say that when legal matters proceed slowly in Cuba the Americans declare that it is due to the corruption of the courts, but the Cubans do not attack the American courts on account of the delay in the Neely case.

TOWNE IS URGED TO STICK. POPULIST LEADERS SAY HE MUST

NOT WITHDRAW. The Chances Now Are That He Will Stick-He Goes to Nevada to Help Out Congressman Newlands-Stevenson Leaves Lincoln-Will Begin Campaigning About Sept. 10

LINCOLN, Neb., July 11.-The string that Charles A. Towne very thoughtfully attached o his frank and fervent withdrawal as the cominee of the Populists for Vice-President promises to be very serviceable. The chances now are that Mr. Towne will not withdraw. Mr. Towne still thinks that he should, but his resolution is giving way before the importunities and the arguments of the Populist leaders. The Populist State Convention is in session here to-day, and the sentiment among the rank and file is very strong against any such ction. He has been assured that the integrity of the Populist organization will be endangered by any indorsement of the Democratic ticket. and that self-preservation dictates that if Towne withdraws some other Populist be

"Mr. Towne will not withdraw," said Vice-Chairman Edmiston, in charge of the Populist national headquarters here. "For him to do so would make it extremely doubtful whether we can carry Nebraska, Kansas and South Dakota. He was officially notified of his nomination at Kansas City, and he has not officially declined. Until he does we will take it for granted that he is our candidate and proceed accordingly. The State convention is in se sion to-night. So is that of the Democrats We shall certainly urge fusion with the Democracy, and upon the basis of four Bryan and Towne and four Bryan and Stevenson electors, four Populists and four Democrats The midroad movement in Nebraska is not very threatening now, but it would attain minous proportions if we take up the entire Democratic National ticket and indorse it." The Democratic plans, as revised, do not nowever, contemplate Mr. Towne's continuance as a candidate during the entire campaign.

Mr. Towne said on Sunday that when he returns to his home in Duluth he will make answer to the notification and define his position. He then expected to be home in ten days. Acording to present plans he will not reach home for a month. According to these same plans it is proposed to wait until after the legislative election in North Carolina, early in August, which will determine Senator Marion Butler's status as a candidate for reelection. Butler is fusing with North Carolina Republicans. and his help cannot be asked until after he has made his own election certain. If pushed at present, it is thought Butler would be able to defeat the project of substituting Stevenson in the National Committee. If the Democrate will wait, they believe they can depend at least on Butler's acquiescence. The proposition now is to have a joint meeting in Chicago of the National Committees of the Populists and Democrats early in August, soon after the North Carolina matter is settled, and arrange for the substitution.

is settled, and arrange for the substitution. If it cannot be done then there will be two tails to Mr. Bryan's kite. Meanwhile Mr. Towne goes to Nevada to help out Congressman Newlands. These plans will also hurry forward the joint notification of Bryan and Stevenson at Indianapolis. About the middle of August was the date first thought available, but it is now regarded as probable that it will take place about the 1st.

The Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson packed his grip this morning and departed for Lake Minnetonka. In Minnesota, where he will spend the next six weeks with his daughter. He was at Minnetonka summering when the Democratic leaders called him into consultation, and he said this morning that he did not expect to begin active campaign work until about Bept. 10, when he will start a tour of Illinois.

"I had thought," he said just before leaving, that my active political career had closed, but the call to return is so unanimous that already I feel rather uneasy about having to wait before taking the stump. The National Committee seems to prefer postponing any active campaigning until it gets cooler, and Mr. to wait before taking the stump. The National Committee seems to prefer postponing any active campaigning until it gets cooler, and Mr. Bryan and I have placed ourselves in its hands. I feel much encouraged by the splendid demonstrations of the past three days, and I am confident that we will win. The people make the issues for national campaigns, and it is quite plain that the Democrate made no mistake when they placed imperialism before the country as the paramount issue. The instant sympathy and the splendid response to the orators' appeals for the Republic prove that."

Mr. Stevenson was the last of the Democratic leaders to go, and Mr. Bryan is now consoled only by the companionship of Webster Davis. Mr. Davis says he intends making a number of speeches under the auspices of the Democratic only by the companionship of Webster Davis, Mr. Davis says he intends making a number of speeches under the auspices of the Democratic National Committee after he fills several engagements to lecture on the Boers for the benefit of a war relief fund. In every speech he has made here he denounces as an infamous lie the story that he was forced out of the Administration. He is going to retire from politics at the end of this campaign, he says, and he hopes for and will take no reward from the Democracy, but will go back to the law.

The Emiline is a sidewheel steamer plying between Haverstraw and Newburgh daily. She is owned by Capt. D. C. Woolsey and William O. Mailler. Capt. Woolsey was not on board his steamer to-day, for the reason that he was in charge of the steamer Lewis D. Black, which took the Emiline to-day, and was in the pilot house when the accident occurred. He says he gave the engineer four bells, meaning to stop and back up under full steam. Engineer Houck did not respond to belts and the collision was the result. He had a subpoena for Antonio Rubino requiring his attendance at an inquest over the remains of the two men who were blown to pieces at Passalo on the Fourth by an explosion of dynamite torpedoes. It was said that Rubino had supplied the torpedoes. When the constable entered the rooms of the Italian in the tenement he found Rubino making dynamite cubes. When the constable got back to the tenement with a warrant the Italian had gone. The other tenants in the building left when they learned they had been living in a dynamite factory.
